Separate Peace for Turkey.

The report that Turkey is to seek separate peace, which has persisted dmost from the time that the Ottomaus joined forces with the Germans. is renewed, based at present upon the rumored overthrow of the war party. This report emanates from Asia Minor, where are the most bitter enemies of Enver Pasha, and it is to an extent confirmed by despatches telling of the dissatisfaction in Constantinople and the stern measures of repression that the Young Turks have taken against their opponents. Turkey was launched upon her wat venture by ENVER Pasha and his colleagues of the dominant party of the Committee of Union and Progress, whose ambition was to recover the lost Turkish provinces. The recapture from the Bulgarians of Adrianople and part of Thrace won them strength and opened the way for the development of the military resources of the Ottoman Empire. From training and association Enver was strongly in sympathy with the Germans. But his choice of war instead of neutrality and of the Germans instead of the Allies was not favored by the entire country. The war was especially unpopular in Asia Minor and Arabia. capable leader in the opposition.
